VOLUME XII

MAY, 1930

Compiled and Published by

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Dedication

We dedicate this twelfth volume of The Senrab

to

Herbert McHelvey

in grateful recognition of his profound interest in the welfare of every student, and his zealous support in various activities of Barnesville High School.

'30 SENRAB

INTRODUCTION

IT has been the aim of the Staff of nineteen-thirty to compile a volume that will faithfully depict the events and activities of our school, and in future years afford for all concerned vivid recollections of happy days in Barnesville High School.

We wish to thank Miss McGinnis, Nelson Poulton, Olive Hardesty, Martha Newell, Virginia Reed and Earl McFarland, who have ably assisted our art editor, also Mr. Baker for his photography, Mr. Schafer, our Staff Advisor, and Miss Knipe, the Staff Critic.

May 24, 1940—

Roughneck kids mutinied during ninth watch. Casualities: First mate, two black eyes; second shortage of teeth; myself, legs black and blue from knees down. Must dock for minor repairs. Mr. Smith footing bill on strength of old memories.

May 25, 1940—

Docked on Canadian side. Men benefited by visiting various saloons about town. Mr. McGee and Mr. Lucas smiled upon by Goddess of Fate in crap game and unturned several thousand bucks ahead, and slightly under weather due to good-fellowship of the boys. Raised anchor at four bells and continued course.

May 26, 1940—

Pirate free-for-all by kids this afternoon. All windows broken, deck littered with deceased vegetables procured as ammunition while in port yesterday. Ten years on my age since trip began. Only one more day, thank Heaven!

May 27, 1940—

Put in at Detroit and unloaded. Peace at last! What a crowd that was! Good bunch, though. Have done well by their Alma Mater. Good time had by all during trip. Arranged for another trip in 1945 for two weeks. Till then, class of 1930, good-bye and God-speed!

Class History

Sept. 1, 1926, the good ship "Thirty" set sail over the long, uncertain ocean of education. Dorothy Dew was selected as skipper, and she brought the ship successfully through the first league of the voyage, advised by Mr. Dunlap.

The following year, just a little later in September, after docking for the summer months, we again weighed anchor, this time under the iron hand of Ed. Smith. We were also under the surveillance of Miss Krafthefer. During this voyage, the inter-class tournament was won by the Sophomores, captained by Nickles, coached by Kearns.

The third league of the journey, Beatrice Malone, aided by Miss Staymen, piloted us through this year. We published the Senrab, held a successful class play followed by a banquet, and were the host to the Seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet.

The last and saddest lap of the voyage has been supervised by Brenton Reynolds and Miss Hornbeck. We have almost reached our final port in High School Life. According to Nickles, we have as good as won the class tournament already. We hope to have served our Alma Mater to our best capacity in athletics, scholarship, and good-fellowship. We will always hold B. H. S. in deepest reverence.

Junior Class History

We began our high-school career at Barnesville High School October 3, 1927, numbering 87. Although being as unsophisticated as all freshmen classes, we soon got over this, as the upper classmates were not long in tucking us under their wings until we were able to find ourselves.

While, after three years, the class has decreased to 63, we are continuing to make high-school history individually and as a class.

We have been well represented in athletics, furnishing real pleayers for the various sports. While not all of them have been stars, each one has taken his place and our school has come to depend on them.

In scholastic work as well as athletics the Juniors have been real workers.

While the greater part of our high-school life is over——?? (we hope) we intend to make what is left the best, and after we have left the halls of our B. H. S. we will take with us the knowledge that we did our best, and that in the great game of Life, success is not so much the "winning" as it is the way we "play" the game.

Sophomore Class History

September 4, 1929—
Back to school again! We're Sophomores, now! Last year they said we were the dumbest looking Freshman Class they'd had yet. And now we're able to sit back and say "I think we have the dumbest looking bunch of Freshmen!"

September 5—
New teachers arrive! They all march up, blushing like schoolgirls, to be introduced. And do we feel superior to them? Just think, we've been here a whole year longer than they have.

September 10—
The new teachers are wiser than one would think. Nobody can pull the wool over their eyes, unless it's one of the Barnesville hair-dressers and most of them are marcelled, too! Good-lookin'? Oh, to be a few years older.

September 15—
We elected class officers, Mr. McKelvey is sponsor, so we sure will have a big year!

December 23—
Christmas vacation on the way! And am I anxious to hang up my stocking!

January 5, 1930—
Back again! Johnny Russell is studying to be principal of B. H. S. He and Mr. Schafer were in conference all morning. We're 'ooking forward!

February 11—
Bank day again! Our class has never been first this year. We still have hopes.

February 19—
Most of the boys in the Hi-Y are Sophomores this year. They played Calais the other night. It was a brave fight but they weakened. They're going to stick closer to home after this. Blame 'em?

February 26—
Several Sophs were in the Hi-Y vs. Faculty game. Some of our teachers looked awfully cute in gym. pantics! Faculty won! The Hi-Y are gonna play the G. R. next.

March 12—
In the spring Aa young man's fancy—!!??! It's hard to keep your mind on your lessons. I wonder if we'll have a Sophomore party this year? We're looking forward.

Freshmen

We're a band of happy schoolmates,
  Our ranks are six score strong;
Just a gang of frisky Freshmen,
  A strivin' to get along.

The teachers think we're the limit,
  To our conduct they fiercely object;
But then, we are just little Freshmen,
  What more have they right to expect?

The Sophomores they openly razz us,
  The Juniors hand us slams;
And the Seniors politely ignore us,
  But we take it is meekly as lambs. (?)

We're proud to say we're the biggest class
  That B. H. S. has had
In a score and five historic years;
  Now, that is not half bad.

O! we're a-gonta show the world,
  That we so carefree and gay,
Won't always be trifling Freshmen,
  We're gonta be Seniors some day.

In nineteen-thirty-four we'll gain
  Our graduate degree;
And then—you ask "What cometh next?"
  We answer—"Wait and see!"

—Blame it on a Freshy.

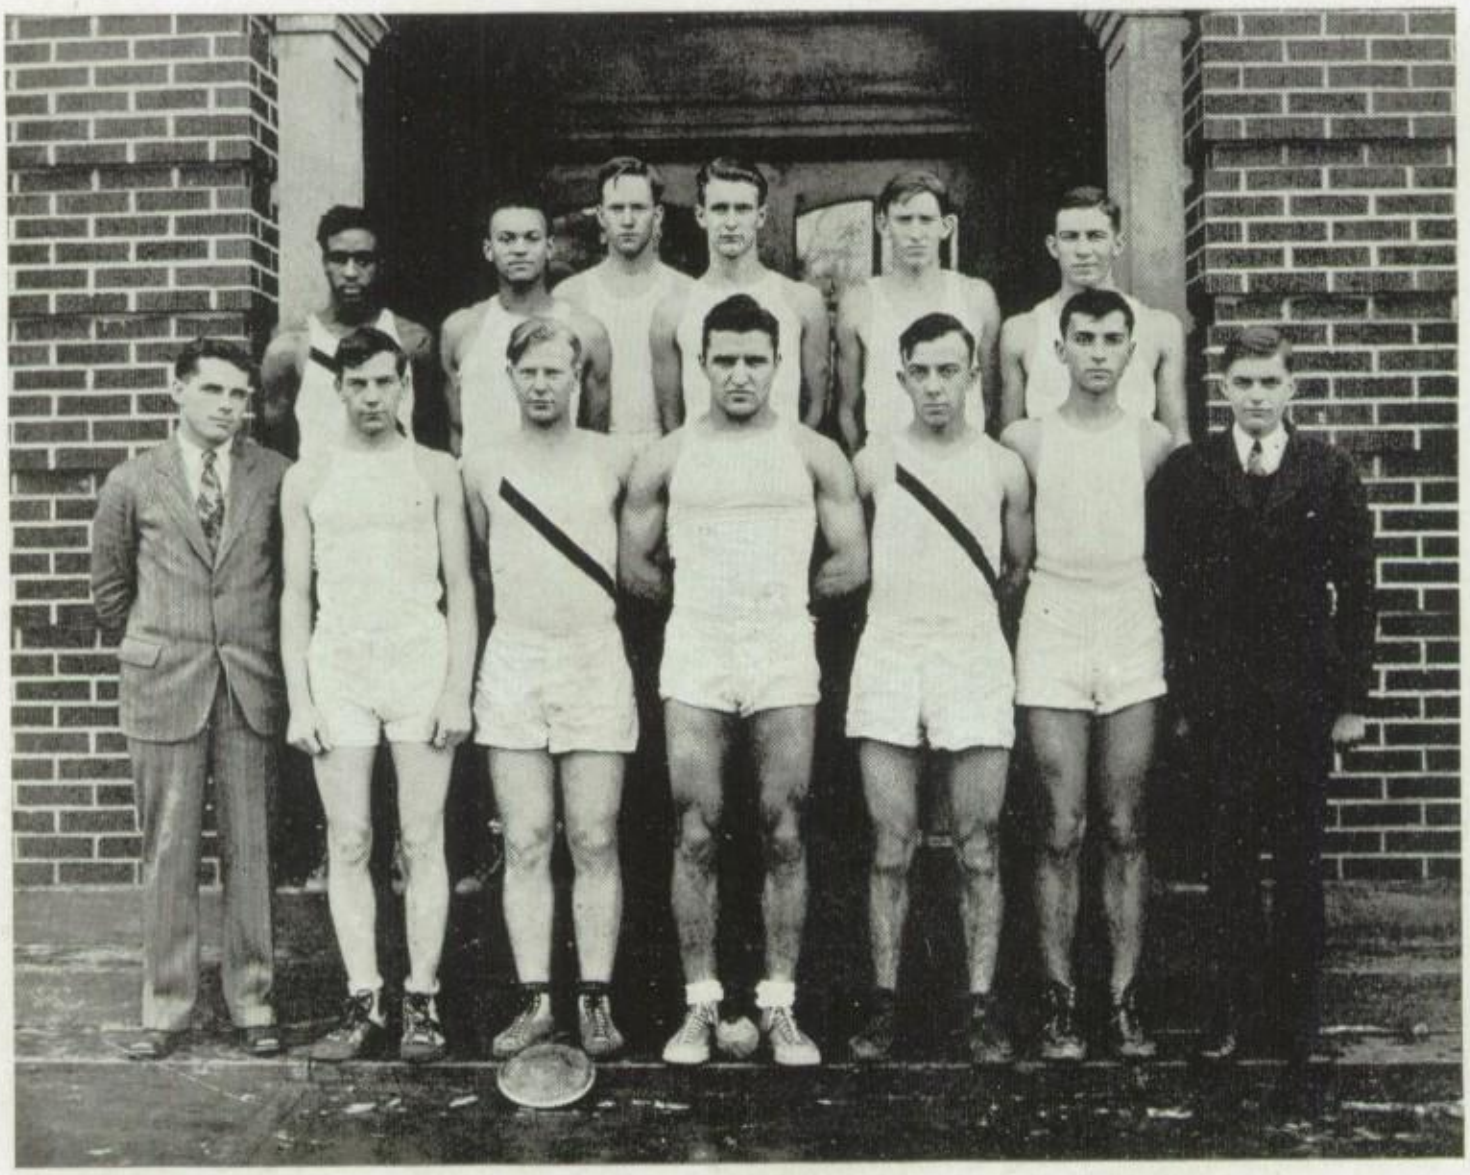
ATHLETICS



Track

The Track season for the year 1928 was very successful.

In a triangular meet held at St. Clairsville, our team was defeated by Linsly by a very close score.

Barnesville defeated Woodsfield in a duel meet held in Barnesville by a goodly margin.

Barnesville won the Eastern Ohio League meet, becoming owner of the Track Trophy.

We entered the Sectional Tournament at Muskingum, and although not winning the meet, our boys showed fine form and took a number of first places in the meet. Those receiving awards are: Captain Frasher, Kearns, McGee, Reynolds, Hines, Severs, Nickles, and Hunkler.

Football

The red and green gridders of the year 1929, went through a very successful season. They captured the Eastern Ohio League Trophy, and also the Barnesville-Woodsfield Legion Trophy. Coach Thomas and Assistant Coach Emmert must be given much credit for they built up a squad which was worthy of our school, and of whom every rooter was justly proud. This year's team proved superior to other E. O. A. L. teams by winning six straight games in league competition for first honors, and by defeating two non-league teams. B. H. S. scored a total of 227 points to 25 for opponents.

Those receiving award for their ability are: Walter Thomas, Donald Hunter, Waldo Drake, Robert Hunkler, Chester Palmer, Lawrence McGee, Brenton Reynolds, William Severs, Edison Majors, John Chase, Captain William Kearns, and manager Edward Smith.

Basketball

The Basketball season just passed has been one of the most successful in the history of Barnesville High School.

Much credit must be given to Coach Thomas for building up such a splendid squad. We all have high hopes for next year's team.

The members of the team deserve much credit for their faithfulness in practice.

The Eastern Ohio League ended three sided in a tie, Barnesville, Adena, and St. Clairsville each having won ten games and having lost two during the season.

In the Southeastern Ohio Tournament, Barnesville defeated Bellaire at Marietta, thereby earning the right to enter into the finals at Dennison.

BASKETBALL

Martha Chaney—"Captain"—"Pony" has proved to us that as a Captain she is a wonder. She was always ready to brighten up our little gloomy places and to put pep and vigor into our fighting. This is Pony's last year with us.

Hazel Dewar—"Hazzy" is one of those guards that never give up until the end. She is quick and how she breaks up plays! This is Hazy's last year in B. H. S.

Kathryn Peters—"Katy" has certainly proved her worth as a guard. She was always on the alert and ready to go, and we could depend on her breaking up the opposing teams plays. Katy will be with us for two more years.

Dorothy Dew—"Dot" was our "high-point" man this year. All through the season Dot had the old fight. Never before has B. H. S. witnessed such passes as those of Dot and "M". This is Dot's last year.

Martha Frasher—"M" is our little lady who slips away from her guard to recover the ball and then before you know it, she has bucketed it. This is "M's" last year with us.

Beatrice Malone—"Batty" was our center and leave it to her to get the tip-off. Batty was a dependable player and had all the spirit necessary to make a good one. This was Batty's last year.

Sarah Bradfield—"Sally" is a splendid shot especially at fouls. She was in our foul shooting contest and made a very good showing. Although a consistant player, Sally was handicapped the first of the season with a bad knee. This was her last year.

Charlene Allen—"Charlie" is another sure shot. She is our only pivot man and when she gets the ball she breaks away from her guard to score another basket for us. We can see a bright future for us because Charlie has two more years with us.

Subs of honorabie mention: Jeanne Kearns, Clara Merril, Ruth Ann Young, Dorothy Taylor, and Ann Miller.

That Football Urge

When in autumn, leaves are falling fast
And soft white clouds are floating past;
Then comes the urge, to which boys yield:
'Tis the urge of football on a velvetry field.

One group here and one over there,
Their clothes all ragged and unkempt their hair
The coach bawls his orders, and how they obey!
Like the boys at Annapolis on Commencement day.

Well we've left that season now, you know,
And that beautiful field is covered with snow;
But why be unhappy? why not be gay?
Why, I'm glad it's returning, not going to stay.

How sad it would be if that urge you had lost,
And could not recoved, not matter the cost;
But 'though it is costless, you don't know what you've missed
'Till the urge is upon you, then try to resist!

Now some folks, you know, are lovers of spring,
When the bushes and shrubbery with sweet music ring;
Some also like summer, the time to make hay,
But just give me my football and a good autuumn day.

—Severs, '31.

I watched a tiny snow-drop
Coursing downward.
It fluttered, twisted, danced awhile
Quite merrily.
Little knew the snow-drop,
One of billions of its kind,
Whether the erratic fitful wind
Blustering, gustful, chilling
With its icy grip,
Would swirl the tiny crystal
Of itself
Down upon the draft of some
Hot chimney; --
Or perhaps among its kind
upon the ground . . . . . .
Would that snow-drop love?
Worship a God?
Cheat a fellow atom?
Kill some smaller thing?
Who can tell?
We humans do those things.

The High School Band

At the opening of the school year Robert Corbin, a former student, organized the High School Band. They were too modest to have their pictures taken but we intend to render them one credit anyhow.

Our football record could not be complete if the band were left out. The band boys were there on the field displaying Barnesville's spirit to the higest degree by their rousing music. We are quite sure that they had much to do with squelching Woodsfield, Adena, Cadiz, and several other of our stiff opponents.

The members of the band were James Dickson, Manager, Virgil Clegg, Victor Showalter, Rolland Hall, George Nickles, Harold Warren, Junior Duffy, John Keating, Robert Bowman, and John Lucas. They were also assisted by a few of the city band men.

The Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves have closed another bright and successful year.

The topic for the year was taken from our G. R. code. We have one hundred and four members.

Among the social activities of the year are: The Big Sister Party, in the form of a gypsy trail; we gave Thanksgiving donations, consisting of 26 baskets to the poor; an early Thanksgiving meeting—our speaker being Rev. Sebastian; for Christmas we gave apple and orange donations; had a March hare party, March 21; the Mother-Daughter Banquet, May 9; Senior Breakfast May 18.

The officers for 1929-30 are:

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y organization which seeks to develop the mental, moral and physical character of each of its members has this year placed more emphasis on the latter purpose than on the first two named. Although our organization has emphasized the physical side of life we do not mean thereby to place physical development before our mental and moral development; but we feel that our schools and churches can better handle our mental and moral needs.

Therefore we have tried to make our lives just a little better through clean sports, properly supervised and hope therewith not only to strengthen our physical bodies but also to develop our mental and moral beings.

It is also our fond endeavor to make our club one that is worthy of its purpose and hope thereby to make our school proud of us.

BIG SISTER PARTY

The Girl Reserves, on the evening of September 20, 1929, abandoned their cares of the newly begun school year and set forth on the "Gypsy Trail." Each member was accompanied by her "little sister" and they followed the "setting sun" to Leatherwood valley where all gathered around the campfire and enjoyed gypsy broth, rolls, and toasted marshmallows.

Afterwards songs were sung and in the dim twilight as the embers of the campfire died away, the theme of the evening, "Candles That Burn" was discussed. Then taps were sung and the gypsy maids and their adopted sisters trod their way over the lonesome gypsy trail back home.

G. R. HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Friday evening, October, 1929, the Girl Reserves met at the school building masked and grotesquely costumed. After a half hour of wierd pantomine and much whispering in muffled tones, each girl was marched out into the middle of the floor for the rest to guess who she was. Dorothy Dew was most successful in concealing her identity, for nobody knew who she was. When everyone had unmasked there was an apple-bobbing contest. Then the party was conducted through the basement on a mysterious ghost walk and then they were led into a dark room where a most unearthly and blood-curdling ghost story was told.

Lunch was served at an appropriate hour and the girls reluctantly departed, warily gliding past shrubbery and dark corners in fear of "spooks".

MARCH HARE PARTY

In honor of the season's most welcome guest, gentle springtime, the G. R. held a "March Hare Party" at the school building, Tuesday evening, March 25, 1930. A very dainty service of food was rendered, consisting of fruit cocktail, chicken fricassee, peas in patty shells, salad, and an appropriate bunny sherbet.

Afterwards Katheryn Peters sang a solo and Martha Frasher performed a clog dance. One of the special features of "Aunt Lucia" was presented by the girls who were in the show. An informal meeting followed and at an early hour the party broke up in order that every one MIGHT get their lessons for the next day.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The annual Junior-Senior Banquet was held in the Methodist Church dining room, on May 17, at 6:30. The room was beautifully decorated with green and yellow, the Senior class colors. The tables were decorated with yellow roses and candles.

Waiters and waitresses, chosen from the Sophomore class, deserve much credit for helping make this affair a success.

The following program was given according to the airplane scheme:

THE FLIGHT OF THE CLASS OF '29

"Warming Up"	Watt Laughlin
"The Pilot"	Mr. Schafer
"Bon Voyage"	Beatrice Malone
"The Hop Off"	Margaretta Clouse
"Above the Clouds" (solo)	Lawrence McGee
"Stunt Flying"	Stunt
"Smooth Sailing"	J. H. Chaney

ATHLETIC BANQUET, 1929

The Athletic Banquet was held in the dining room of the First Methodist Church, May 17, 1929. The feature of the evening was a tennis meet with Mr. Shafer as "starter". A tennis (?) "racket" in which everyone had part was the opening of the program. Katy Stewart and Margaretta Clouse put on stunts. Both the boys' and the girls' coaches, Mr. Thomas and Miss McBride gave interesting talks. Splendid "eats" were served and several requested musical numbers were given.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY, 1929

"Miss Somebody Else", a four act comedy was presented by the Senior class at the High School auditorium Tuesday evening, May 21, 1929. It furnished great enjoyment for those who attended and it was an all around success. The cast of characters was well chosen and all who took part displayed exceptional talent.

A Student's Prayer

Let me be a dreamer
Let me dream away
Every single period,
Every single day.

Let me dream in Caesar
While the others concentrate,
On funny little sayings
That are old and out of date.

Let me dream in Ancient History
Let me dream of long past wars
Let me dream I fired the cannons
While the students cursed my snores

Oh! teacher listen to my prayer
Oh! teacher please be nice
If you will grant this favor
I'll return it to you twice.

John Null—"What are those holes in that boards?"
George McBride—"Those are knot holes."
John N.—"Well if they're not holes, what in the heck are they?"

Customer—"Waitress, there isn't a particle of turtle in this turtle soup!"
Ruth Eddy—"Yes, we have Cabinet Pudding too, and you wouldn't expect to find Andrew Mellon in it, would you?"

Alton Smith—"Boy, I got a kick out of kissing Helen last night."
George Bell—"More than usual?"
Alton S.—"Yes, the old man caught us."

Aubrey Moore—"I call my Ford opportunity."
Wayne Goodnite—"How come?"
Aubrey M.—"Opportunity always knocks."

Swaying couple, gliding gracefully to the melody that seemed to come as on a breeze. Radiant faces, eyes shining with joy and young love: Hearts beating faster. All about him was happiness. He sat eagerly awaiting. His hands touched her ever so lightly as she lay in his lap. He bent her slightly, so that her slim, graceful lines were even more appealing and gazed at her a moment as if bewildered. His lips were poised, and as the sweet notes of the violin descended in a bewitching cadence, and the saxophone took up the rhythmic swing, he pressed his lips tightly against the cornet and continued playing, after taking the rest shown in the music.
